

Will 2

A century ago Charles de Foucauld wrote in his private diary that his only desire was to do God's will.

Then, in great honesty he wrote: "But alas, I have so little love for Jesus that I dare not call him my Beloved. Yet I want -- I long -- to love him more than anything on earth or in heaven. My heart and my life are his alone."

Coffee/tea thought: Do you resonate with Foucauld's honest evaluation of his own heart? What might God be inviting you to respond to him?

旨意 (2)

一百年前的方济各在他的私人日记写道，他唯一的愿望就是遵行神的旨意。

紧接着，他非常诚实，写道，"可是神啊，我实在不能说自己爱耶稣，我爱他如此之少，我甚至不敢说他是我心所爱的。但是，我渴望爱他，甚过世上一切，甚至天上一切。我心，我命唯属于他的。"

随想：你体会到方济各内心的坦诚表白吗？神可能用什么东西让你去回应他？
